CARPENTERSVILLE, IL

Devyn, Marilyn and Joi

Devyn and her daughters are very excited that they will be living in their new home on Robin Road in Carpentersville very soon.

Devyn found out about the Habitat through Fellowship Housing, a transitional housing program for single mothers. "I was excited and relieved to be accepted," she said, adding that she applied to the program because she felt it was a great way to obtain stable, affordable housing.

In a nod to the value of perseverance, it is worth noting that her path to homeownership was a little delayed. Her first application was turned down, but after making the necessary adjustments, she applied again and was accepted. After several years of apartment living, she and her daughters are most looking forward to be able to play in their own backyard.
